Dear Permissions Editor:

I, János Kornai, am the author of:

'what the Change of System from Socialism to Capitalism Does and Does Not Mean' originally published in The Journal of Economic Perspectives, Winter 2000 Issue, Volume 14, Number 1, pages 27-42.

I would like to have this article appear on my website at the Economics Department of Harvard University. All of the articles and papers at the site are available to the world, For this reason, I request written permission for unlimited, unrestricted presentation of my article at my Harvard University site. I will post a scanned copy of this signed permission letter on the site and will use the credit line above unless you indicate otherwise.

Professor János Kornai's website: <http://www.economics.harvard.edu/faculty/kornai/kornai.html>.

If you should not control web-published permissions for my article, would you kindly inform me of any entity or individual that retains an interest or right to this work, as well as contact information.

I would greatly appreciate your prompt written approval and include, for your convenience, a self-addressed, stamped envelope. If you need to reach me, please call Ann Richards at 617-496-1488.

Sincerely,
